How do you turn a t-shirt brand that's sold from the trunk of a rusty car into a global multi-million dollar business?

Named America's #1 young entrepreneur by BusinessWeek, profiled in The New York Times, NPR, MTV, Forbes, Newsweek magazine and The Boston Globe, and featured in INC magazine as one of the world's fastest growing independent businesses—there is only one man that knows the answer to that question—Johnny Earle, the founder of Johnny Cupcakes. At 19 Johnny had a passion for his one of a kind t-shirt business to go global so in a saturated marketplace, he needed a different recipe that would go viral! He created such a unique brand experience that consumers would (and do) line up around the block for. After 5 global store openings, he inspires fans to camp out for weeks ahead of time and high profile collaborations such as The Simpson's, Looney Tunes and Nickelodeon. Johnny is now sharing his secret recipe for viral business and marketing success through his high impact keynote speeches
